

Needham & Company's Third Annual HDD Investor Day

Wednesday, November 4th, 2009
At Needham Headquarters
445 Park Avenue, NYC-4th Floor

This event, the only HDD-focused conference on Wall Street, boasted top management from the leading public and private hard drive vendors, component and equipment suppliers, and emerging flash storage companies. Only very rarely do the leaders of an entire industry assemble in an atmosphere conducive to casual conversation. Highlights of the day included a panel on SSDs and a lunch presentation comprised of the CEOs/Presidents of Western Digital, Seagate and Hitachi Global as well as a private company panel where investors were able to hear from some of the fastest growing emerging companies in storage today.
